Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from John Price the Emigrant, Jamestown Colony 1620: With Some of His Descendants In former years the writer took very little interest in family history: but when he began to gather data for his wife's admission to membership in the Daughters of the American Revolution, his family pride was aroused; and he has since persisted in an endeavor to trace the history of his people. It is a further gratification to feel that some success has attended these efforts. This fragmentary sketch has cost some time and expense; yet it has been a diversion from the duties of the pastorate, which every minister needs, at the same time it has been a labor of loyalty and love. It might appear from the pages of this booklet that our people were mainly of the Episcopal Church, but the record does not justify such a conclusion. In the days of the Colonies, when the Episcopal Church was the first on the ground, our people with many others, at once recognized the value and importance of the Sanctuary, and so naturally threw their influence, and gave their support in maintaining the Altar of Jehovah regardless of creed. The family is represented in many of the Protestant churches of the present time, though a goodly number have been and are now Presbyterians. In the year 1905 there were eight ministers bearing the name of Price, in the Southern Presbyterian Church. So far as one is able to judge the family has been by temperament and thought most naturally inclined to the doctrines of the Presbyterian faith and polity. To the family this booklet will no doubt occupy a unique...
