Looking back at last we see that hour distinct as a ship s spar thrust up into the dawn, and how it shot a shadow or a beam of light through all the bubble-hours that one by one rose after it! To Paul Elchard, though he did not know it, such an hour had come. Riding along a mountain road where the world, just back of the peaks that face Great Salt Lake, rolls eastward fold on fold, toward the Weber River, he was overtaken by the sunset. On all sides and near and far the landscape seemed to rise and pile away with ridge, and spur, and mountain-heap, lonely, desolate, and still.
