Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Pacific Unitarian Then there is seen her great cosmopolitanism, and every race and nationality, every degree of station, mingle in delightful democracy-well dressed, good natured, independent, and apparently happy. There is something in the scene to foster faith and hope. Market Street in San Francisco is hardly appreciated by those most familiar with it. It is one of the noble highways of the world, stretching broad and beautiful from the classic Ferry Building toward the lovely Twin Peaks that crown the range that deflects it to the south. As one now travels its almost perfect pavement and notes the fine examples of the newer architecture so rapidly filling the gaps, it is hard to recall the dark days when all one saw spelled ruin. No one who, as he wended his way from the ferry 011 returning to the city from brief exile in Oakland, was stopped by some self-constituted officer and asked to throw bricks to clear the roadway that teams might pass can forget the satisfaction he felt in that first humble...
